DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. The rejection of Claims 1, 4-7 & 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suzuki (US Patent Application No. 2003/0123603 A1) is hereby is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not well understood in light of the specification what "share the same geometry" means in relation with the claim language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
6. The rejection of Claims 3, 8-9 & 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Suzuki (US Patent No. 2003/0123603 A1) as applied to claim 1-2 & 4-7 above, and further in view of Banks et al. (US Patent No. 6,603,494 B1) is hereby maintained.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 15 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 08/13/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Applicant argued that the broadest reasonable interpretation of the claims must also be consistent with the interpretation that those skilled in the art that would reach. In dealing with computers and scheduling it is not uncommon for ordering to have multiple meanings as the dictionary definitions provided by the Applicant indicate. The Examiner contends that the current claim language in its broadest interpretation would be consistent with an interpretation of one skilled in the art. Further language is necessary to overcome the prior art rejection and clarify the Applicant's invention to prevent the broadest reasonable interpretation from being applicable. With regards to arguments for Claim 9, the apparatus is capable of performing the claimed functions. The operator can control the stop and start time of the bed, the scanning range and displacement of the bed (Page 6, 0069 & 0070). To meet the claim, the operator could scan the patient's head, displace the bed for that imaging station (position), next the bed and gantry could be prepared for the scan of the patient's leg. The system of Sukuki is capable of being modified with the system of Banks. The Examiner maintains the rejection.
